LA/B/7/483/80

The following Bill which was introduced in the Legislative Assembly of Goa, Daman and Diu on 28th March, 1980 is hereby published for general information in pursuance of the provisions of Rule 136 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business of the Legislative Assembly.

The Goa, Daman and Diu Buildings (Lease, Rent and Eviction) Control (Fifth Amendment) Bill, 1980

(Bill No. 3 of 1980)

A BILL

further to amend the Goa, Daman and Diu Buildings (Lease, Rent and Eviction) Control Act, 1968.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of Goa, Daman and Diu in the Thirty-first Year of the Republic of India as follows : —

1. Short title and commencement. — This Act may be called the Goa, Daman and Diu Buildings (Lease, Rent and Eviction) Control (Fifth Amendment) Act, 1980.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

2. Amendment of section 23. — In sub-section (1) of section 23 of the Goa, Daman and Diu Buildings (Lease, Rent and Eviction) Control Act, 1968, for the first proviso, the following proviso shall be substituted, namely : —

“Provided that a person who becomes landlord after the commencement of the tenancy by an instrument ‘inter vivos’ shall not be entitled to apply under clause (b) before the expiry of three months from the date on which the instrument was registered.”.

Statement of Objects and Reasons

Section 23 of the Goa, Daman and Diu Buildings (Lease, Rent and Eviction) Control Act, 1968 gives the circumstances under which the landlord can apply for the possession of the building leased by him. Sub-section (1) of the said Section have 2 clauses namely clause (a) dealing with residential buildings and clause (b) dealing with non-residential buildings. Under the first proviso a person who becomes a landlord after the commencement of the Tenancy by an instrument “inter vivos” shall not be entitled to apply for possession before the expiry of five years from the date on which the instrument was registered. The words used in the said proviso were “this clause” before the enactment of the Fourth Amendment. By the Fourth Amendment the words “this sub-section” has been substituted thereby making the proviso applicable for both residential and non-residential buildings. In the statement of Objects and Reasons of the Fourth Amendment Bill it was stated that the amendment was proposed to cure a printing mistake in section 23. Similarly in the original Bill published before introduction persons who become landlord after the commencement of the tenancy by an instrument “inter vivos” were prevented for a period of 3 months from the date of registration of instrument to apply for personal possession. The said period of three months was subsequently changed to five years by an Amendment moved in the Assembly.

It is felt that the genuine need of a landlord for personal occupation cannot and should not be denied considering the peculiar circumstances prevailing in Goa.

Further as a result of cumbersome process of litigation, it has been seen that eviction proceedings against a tenant take not less than four years to be finally decided. Thus it can be safely visualised that when a person becoming a landlord by virtue of “inter-vivos” instrument desires to acquire possession of a building for his bonafide use under the existing provision such building will practically come into his possession after a period of nine or ten years during which the tenant is at liberty to make alternative arrangements. Hence on viewing the problem from this angle and also by comparing the existing provisions of Rent Control Act in other States of the country as quoted above, it is felt that the existing provision of five years is too harsh against the persons becoming landlord by inter-vivos instruments. It is therefore proposed to reduce it to “three months” as originally introduced.

Financial Memorandum

The Bill does not envisages any financial commitment.

The Goa, Daman and Diu Buildings (Lease, Rent and Eviction) Control Act, 1968

(Act No. 2 of 1969)

23. Landlord's right to obtain possession. — (1) A landlord may subject to the provisions of section 24, apply to the Controller for an order directing the tenant to put him in possession of the building —

(a) in case it is residential building —

(i) if the landlord is not occupying a residential building of his own in the city, town or village concerned and he requires it for his own occupation or for the occupation of any member of his family, or

(ii) if the landlord who has more buildings than one in the city, town or village concerned is in occupation of one such building and he bonafide requires another building instead, for his own occupation;

(b) in case it is a non-residential building which is used for the purpose of keeping a vehicle or adapted for such use, if the landlord requires it for his own use and if he is not occupying any such building in the city, town or village concerned which is his own or to the possession of which he is entitled whether under this Act or otherwise:

Provided that a person who becomes a landlord after the commencement of the tenancy by an instrument 'inter vivos' shall not be entitled to apply under this clause before the expiry of five years from the date on which the instrument was registered:

Provided further that where a landlord has obtained possession of a building under this section, he shall not be entitled to apply again under this section —

(i) in case he has obtained possession of a residential building possession of another residential building of his own;

(ii) in case he has obtained possession of a non-residential building for possession of another non-residential building of his own.
